

The Arctic Institute of North America presents the 2015–2016

Arctic Speaker Series

Join the Arctic Institute of North America (AINA) every month as we host the 2015 – 2016 Arctic Speaker Series. Listen to talks from leading edge researchers and students working and studying in the Circumpolar North. Afterwards, enjoy snacks and refreshments in the AINA offices, located in Earth Sciences 1040. This event is free and open to the public.

Day: Wednesdays | Time: 4:00 – 5:00 pm | Location: University of Calgary; Engineering A 101

NSTP student Symposium, September 23, 4:00 – 6:00 pm

October 21

Elena Favaro

Downstream Patterns
and Catchment Controls
on Suspended Sediment
Transport in a High
Arctic River

February 24

Sandie Black

Developing an integrative health index for Narwhal in the Canadian Arctic

November 18

Joel Berger

Science and Conservation in an Increasingly Peopled
World

March 16

Peter Dawson

Science and Survival at Fort Conger: A Virtual
Exhibition of 19th
Century Polar
Exploration

January 20

Shari Gearheard

The Meaning of Ice:
People and Sea Ice in Three Arctic
Communities

April 20

Chris Southcott

Can we avoid the trap
without being cursed?
Resource development
in Canada's North

Email: arctic@ucalgary.ca Webpage: www.arctic.ucalgary.ca Phone: 403-220-7515

